To the National Sorority of Phi Delta Kappa, Inc.:

It gives me great pleasure to welcome you to Little Rock! The City is honored to host you for your 94th Biennial National Meeting.

Your theme "Embracing the Standards and Raising the Bar: Narratives of Bravery and Hope" is very timely. This September, the City will commemorate the 60th anniversary of the Little Rock Nine's courageous desegregation of Central High School. They exemplified both bravery and hope.

The City of Little Rock and its citizens share your commitment to education and public service. In 2016, the City adopted its first ever Youth Master Plan. We applaud your 111 years of promoting high-quality education, in particular publicly supported education, as essential to the development and maintenance of a democratic way of life.

You have a very full schedule in Little Rock. However, I hope that while here you will have the chance to visit some of our many attractions including the Central High National Historic Site Visitors Center, Mosaic Templars Cultural Center, and the Clinton Presidential Center.

Again, thank you for coming to Little Rock! We are honored to have you here. If there is anything we can do for you, let me know.

Sincerely,

Greetings to My Sisters,

On behalf of the Southwest Region, I am delighted to write this greeting as we celebrate our 94th Anniversary Conclave, in Little Rock, AR. I hope this greeting finds each of you filled with excitement and anticipation of the wonderful activities we will enjoy in Little Rock.

We have stepped out of the box into a global society, that is constantly changing, to promote our sisterhood and pursue excellence. As African-American educators, we continue our mission to raise the bar and produce future leaders. We have made great strides, but the journey is not over. We must continue to push for excellence and professional growth. We are challenged each day to exhibit the highest ideals of the teaching profession. While we acknowledge the opening of many doors and opportunities, there are still others we must work to open.

This historical 94th Anniversary Conclave will go down in history as one that left no stones unturned. The Conclave theme, “Embracing the Standards, Raising the Bar – Narratives of Bravery and Hope” is, without a doubt, appropriate for such a historical city as Little Rock. Thank you Gamma NU and Supreme Basileus, Charlotte Williams for a job well done.

EMBRACING THE STANDARDS, RAISING THE BAR: NARRATIVES OF BRAVERY AND HOPE

To the members of the National Sorority of Phi Delta Kappa, Inc., the National Anthropos, and all Affiliated Groups:

I bring you greetings from the Executive Board of the National Anthropos, and welcome you to Little Rock, Arkansas!

The Anthropos look forward to an exciting and productive 19th National Anthropos Conclave, during this 94th Anniversary Conclave of the National Sorority of Phi Delta Kappa, Inc.

Little Rock is a city steeped in the long legacy of the Civil Rights Movement. Given the national political and social climate, it is very timely that the Sorority and the Anthropos meet in Little Rock. We as a people and a nation are living in challenging and troubling times, where the national discourse continues to take a decidedly uncivil turn; however, we need look no farther than those nine Little Rock students who stood up in the face of adversity and prejudice to persevere and succeed. As we meet this week to forward the business and purpose of the Anthropos and the Sorority, may we have the same steadfast, calm, civil, gracious, and immovable spirit of the Little Rock Nine, the promote the betterment of our organizations, our fellow members, and our peers, as we continue to make positive contributions in our communities. May we listen, learn, and lean on one another to uphold and uplift each other!

The National Anthropos are looking forward to a wonderful and productive week of progress and fellowship!

With great anticipation.

GAMMA NU CHAPTER SPECIAL RECOGNITIONS

• LITTLE ROCK NINE •

ELIZABETH ANN ECKFORD

Elizabeth Ann Eckford made history as a member of the Little Rock Nine, the nine African-American students who desegregated Little Rock Central High School in 1957. The image of fifteen-year-old Eckford, walking alone through a screaming mob in front of Central High School, propelled the crisis into the nation's living rooms and brought international attention to Little Rock (Pulaski County). Eckford was awarded the prestigious Spingarn Medal by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), as were the rest of the Little Rock Nine and Daisy Bates, in 1958. In 1997, Elizabeth Eckford shared the Father Joseph Biltz Award (presented by the National Conference for Community and Justice) with Hazel Bryan Massery, a segregationist classmate who appears in the famous Will Counts photograph, and during the reconciliation rally of 1997, the two former adversaries made speeches together.

THELMA MOTHERSHED WAIR

Thelma Jean Mothershed Wair made history as a member of the Little Rock Nine, the African-American students involved in the desegregation of Little Rock Central High School in 1957. The world watched as they braved constant intimidation and threats from those who opposed desegregation of the formerly all-white high school. Mothershed was a junior when she entered Central. Despite the fact that she had a cardiac condition since birth, she had a near perfect record for attendance. Mothershed attended Dunbar Junior High School and Horace Mann High School before transferring to Central High. Despite daily tormenting from some white students at Central High, she completed her junior year at the formerly all-white high school during the tumultuous 1957–58 year. Because the city's high schools were closed the following year, Mothershed earned the necessary credits for graduation through correspondence courses and by attending summer school in St. Louis, Missouri. She received her diploma from Central High by mail. The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) awarded her and the other Little Rock Nine, along with Daisy Bates, the prestigious Spingarn Medal in 1958.
